Departing from Pichi Richi Camel Farm you will ride the valley beneath Devils Peak. This trail, not accessible to vehicles, is the epitome of the Flinders Ranges. The sandstone capped peak glowing in the morning sun on one side, the floor of the Richman Valley below you on the other. The trail itself follows an ancient creek bed, lined on both side by timeless River Red Gums.

Watch wild goats drinking from the natural springs, emus casually strolling past and more kangaroos than you can count, snoozing beneath the acacia bushes. Your track will take you around the base of Devils Peak, once in its shadows you will have time to get off and explore whilst the billy boils and your guide prepares a light lunch.

As you begin your return journey you will have fantastic views beyond the edge of the Ranges and out to the blue waters of the Spencer Gulf. You will arrive at Pichi Richi Camel Farm and the completion of your adventure at approximately 2:30pm.
